FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS IN KOREA

□□□□□ The financial institutions, which are a core element of the economic system, underpin financial and real transactions and contribute to national economic development. Seeking to deepen understanding of the Korean financial institutions, the Bank of Korea published an English edition of “Financial System in Korea” in 2002. The Korean financial institutions have undergone significant change since that time. Above all, the basis for development of financial investment services has expanded, enabling the Korean financial industry to evolve into a high value-added growth industry creating quality jobs amid the trend of Korean financial institutions internationalizing and pursuing economies of scope and scale. Impacted by the global financial crisis that broke out in 2008, however, it now also finds itself in a phase of transition as it seeks to chart a desirable future course. There is now an awareness in major countries of the side effects of financial deregulation, and so they are reconsidering their long-held stance of financial regulatory easing and discussing ways to avoid systemic risk. In Korea, the Bank of Korea Act has been revised with a view to strengthening the central bank’s financial stability function. In order to reflect these changes and recent discussions and make up for the shortcomings of the previous version of this book, the Bank of Korea has arranged publication of this English edition along with the Korean version this year. To enhance its role in providing an outline of Korean financial institutions, this revised edition, “Financial Institutions in Korea”, places a particular focus on their historical background, functions and business operations. It is hoped that this publication will be of use in furthering understanding of the Korean financial institutions.
