Going Swimming

Bodley Head Four books which are already known in a picture book format now get a new lease of life as large format board books. In Doing the Garden, mum, baby, daughter and dog plant and dig their way through one delightfully muddy day in the garden, and when mum takes the children to playschool in Going to Playschool, they're soon having lots of fun making friends, painting pictures, and playing games. Going Swimming is a scary experience for the nervous toddler, but with mum close by to hold on tight, he's soon splashing happily. And with cakes and mix and biscuits to bake, the family's in a flurry of preparation when the neighbours are Coming to Tea.

Get Your Boots On

Dived Up Publications Young wildlife champion Alex White believes that a lifetime of caring for the environment can start close to home with fantastic experiences. Along with a host of well-known contributors, he reveals the simple and low-cost ways that people can enjoy nature. Together they share their passion, reveal what got them into wildlife in the first place and show how to get closer to it - now they want you to Get Your Boots On. The book also offers indispensable advice for those who would like to get more involved, or even build a career out of their passion for wildlife. Illustrated throughout by Alex's stunning photographs, this book will appeal to young and old alike. It suggests: when and where to get out there; what to go looking for; how to do it; what to take... and a host of other tips. Practical advice for getting closer to nature. Encouragement from those who have lived it. 'This fabulous and important book. It's good, it's inspirational and - critically - it's heartening'— Chris Packham. 'Alex is prominent as a standard-bearer for [a] new generation of wildlife champions... he is giving hope and inspiration to young people across this nation that despite all the challenges we face, it is still possible to make this world a better place for humans and wildlife'— Dominic Dyer, CEO Badger Trust & British Wildlife Advocate Born Free Foundation.

Little by Little

Oxford University Press - Children Scramble is a little otter who can't swim. At the beginning of the story, we find him in the middle of writing a list. It's his Can-do and Can't-do List. The Can't-do side just says 'Swimming'. One small word. But not being able to swim is a big deal for Scramble. It means he's teased by some of the riverbank animals. It means he feels left out when everyone else is in the water. And it means he spends hours and hours sitting on his own on the slippery rock wishing and wishing and wishing that he could. But something is going round in Scramble's head. Something his mummy has said. Something his older sister has said. 'You've got to start small' And so, slowly, slowly, Scramble builds his confidence in the water - overcoming each new incremental goal that he sets himself. Until, finally, Scramble really can swim! At the heart of this gentle story about learning a new skill is the message of encouragement - something that is important for toddlers everywhere.

Sink Or Swim

Relic # 2

Trapped on a cruise ship with a man I absolutely hate is not how I wanted to spend this fake honeymoon. Especially when my "fiancé" has a deadly ex on the same boat. Jackson is everything I'm not: brash, careless and a former fossil thief. But he's my ticket to getting what I want -- the original Spinosaurus fossils that have been lost for decades. Now I have to play the part, win the fossils and try not to kill him in the process. The danger of being caught, tortured or killed isn't what scares me. Navigating the waters of this fake relationship is threatening to pull me under. And I'm terrified of sinking.

Maisy Goes Swimming

Maisy Kids go crazy for Maisy's lift-the-flap books! Two of Lucy Cousins's very first Maisy books are now reissued by Candlewick in a bold new design.
